

Dear Overwhelmed:

I believe that all of us could use a little more serenity and balance in our daily lives. But how do we achieve this when we have so many commitments, and so much to do? Sometimes all it takes is a little support.

I am the consummate detail-oriented person who loves helping others. A background in Human Resources management and my experience in household management help me to connect with each client and deliver the best possible service.

Call me today at 612.207.4510 to discuss your specific needs, or learn more about Serenity Now at www.serenity-now.com
